

Executive Board

Hans-Werner Feick, Managing Partner

Hans-Werner Feick has been a member of the Detecon Executive Board and responsible for the business division “Industries & Services” since 1 January 2005. He directs all of the consulting activities in the industries financial services, high-tech industries, utilities, travel and transport, digital media and online services, and automotive and manufacturing. Hans-Werner Feick has been working for Detecon since 1999 and prior to his present position was director of the Competence Group ICT Organization. He has the expertise of many years in ICT, finances, and restructuring. After completing his studies in industrial engineering, he began his career with a large service provider, where he was the head of IT and responsible for the strategic realignment of the company’s IT and core service processes.